Agreement with City Expedites Improvements

Special Use Permit Outlines Forever Balboa Park's Essential Role in the Park

Forever Balboa Park has signed a three-year Special Use Permit \(SUP\) with the City of San Diego, effective January 1, 2024, that streamlines the process for our collaborative work to improve Balboa Park for all. The comprehensive agreement outlines the scope of our collaboration, helping to expedite projects and facilitate park improvements. Under the SUP, Forever Balboa Park will deploy its team of volunteers, staff, and contractors across all 1,200 acres of Balboa Park to provide seven-day-a-week visitor services through the Balboa Park Visitors Center, care for 16,000+ trees that make up Balboa Park's urban forest, steward the park's 18 public gardens and historic landscapes, repair and maintain the park's 60+ miles of trails, offer enhanced learning and placemaking opportunities, and restore historical assets. We are thrilled to continue our partnership with the city to help make Balboa Park an accessible and welcoming experience for all visitors. We are also grateful to all our volunteers whose commitment and passion make our work possible.

Introducing the Nat Garden Corps

Volunteers Are Needed to Tend New Garden at the Nat

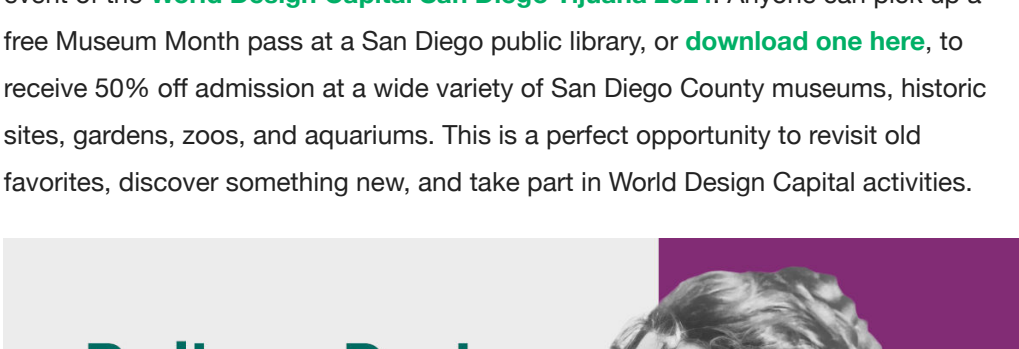

In a unique partnership with the San Diego Natural History Museum, Forever Balboa Park is expanding volunteer gardening opportunities with the creation of the Nat Garden Corps. This new group of volunteers will specialize in the upkeep and interpretation of the new pocket and native plant gardens currently being installed at the San Diego Natural History Museum. These gardens and interpretive trails will highlight the region's biodiversity through living displays of native and low-water plants that provide habitat for pollinators and other wildlife. Our own trustee Betty Peabody along with her late husband, Homer, will be honored on the interpretive signage for the Pollinator Garden. We are currently recruiting for new volunteers for the Nat Garden Corps. Training is scheduled to begin in April 2024 and is a perfect opportunity for anyone with a passion for native plants. If you are interested in becoming a member of the Nat Garden Corps, please email Andrea at asmith@balboapark.org for more information.

Volunteer of the Month

Sally Hixson Brings a Legacy of Dedication to the Carousel

Our volunteers' dedication is often driven by a very close connection they have to Balboa Park. That's especially true for Sally Hixson, who works two days a week with the Balboa Park Carousel restoration team. Most recently, she assisted efforts to restore the Carousel's armored horse and the Uncle Sam chariot, and has been working solo on restoring (repainting) two smaller horses. Her connection to the Carousel extends all the way back to 1924, when her grandfather started working on the Carousel, and continued through her mother, Virginia Long, who owned it from 1950 to 1977. Sally herself worked as a ticket attendant in the 1970s alongside our longtime Carousel Manager, Bill Brown. When she was a child, her mother only allowed her to paint the chains on the Carousel's fence. Now Sally is one of the Carousel's most experienced restorers. Her passion for the carousel's menagerie extends to helping out real animals at the Santa Barbara and Santa Maria Humane Societies, where she also volunteers.

Discover the Park's 1,200 Acres

New Parkwide Map Includes All of Balboa Park

Forever Balboa Park developed a new parkwide map to include all 1,200 acres of Balboa Park, bringing attention to the open spaces and recreational opportunities in the park beyond the central cultural district. As part of our larger signage and wayfinding project, the unified map will be used across the park, in the Balboa Park Visitor Guide, and on new signage. The parkwide map was created in collaboration with the City of San Diego and other park stakeholders. The project was made possible by San Diego Foundation – San Diego County Associated General Contractors – Carpenters Union Health & Welfare Fund and a County of San Diego Community Enhancement Program grant. Check out the new map at the link below.

Developing NextGen Tree Stewards

High Tech High Students Help Bolster the Park's Urban Forest

Last month, nearly 50 students from High Tech High took part in a tree planting experience to complement their classroom studies. Working side by side with our Tree Steward volunteers, the high school students helped plant 12 trees in Pepper Grove on the park's central mesa while learning about the myriad environmental benefits of a healthy urban tree canopy. The new climate-friendly trees that were planted include two coast live oaks, five Peruvian peppers, and five tipu trees. The students' hands-on learning was enhanced with a special field study guide designed for them (check it out at the button below!). The tree planting supplies and the youth study guide were generously funded by a grant from The Thursday Club.

A Crowning Achievement

Botanical Building Cupola Reinstalled

Phase 1 of the Botanical Building and Gardens revitalization project reached an important milestone on January 17 with the reinstallation of the building's cupola. As one of the building's more iconic features, the reinstallation was an important piece to returning the building to its former glory. You can watch a video of the cupola installation on our Instagram. Phase 1 progresses with the continued installation of the redwood lath and Palladian windows along the front facade. The building is set to reopen in fall 2024. Phase 2 is currently in the design phase. Learn more about the project at BalboaParkBotanical.org.
